Ireland Electing Parliament Today

Voters In Southern Part of Country Go to Polls as Provided by Anglo-Irish Treaty.

(By The Associated Press.)
DUBLIN, June 16.—Voters of southern Ireland went to the polls today to elect an Irish Parliament as Anglo-Irish treaty.

The Anglo-Irish treaty, signed last December, under which the Irish Free State is being created, provided for the formation of an Irish parliament. The act to give the treaty effect, passed by the British parliament, stipulated that elections to a provisional parliament for the Free State should be held "as soon as may be" after the passage of the act. These are the elections being held in Ireland today.

The parliament chosen under the treaty will pass upon the constitution for the Free State under which a permanent parliament for southern Ireland will be chosen.

Lacking any constitutional division of the country into districts for the present election, the act of the British parliament stipulated that the prospective members be nominated from the constituencies which elected members to the parliament chosen under the government of Ireland act of 1920. Elections were held in southern Ireland that year under this act, but the parliament never came into being.

Instead, the members elected to the parliament were declared by the Irish Free State government at that time to constitute the membership of the Dail Eireann, or Republican parliament, which, since the adoption of the Anglo-Irish treaty, has been allowed by the British government to function as a virtually recognized legislative body for southern Ireland.

It was contemplated by the British government, and originally by the Irish provisional government headed by Michael Collins, that today's elections should be freely contested and should virtually constitute a plebiscite of southern Ireland on the question of the treaty and the proposed constitution. The opposition to such a plebiscite on the part of the Republican faction, led by Eamonn de Valera, was so determined, however, that late in May an agreement was reached between the Collins and de Valera factions that candidates previously agreed upon should be nominated by the two factions, comprising virtually an official slate, the members to be chosen in the proportion in which the two factions are now represented in the Dail Eireann, or with a slight preponderance for the Collins party.

The new parliament will pass a coalition cabinet chosen from the pro-treaty faction under Michael Collins, and the anti-treaty forces under Eamonn de Valera. An agreement reached in May by Collins and de Valera provided for a cabinet of eleven members in which the president and the minister of defense, the nine other members will be selected five from the anti-treaty party and four from the majority party, each party to choose its nominees.

The factional agreement of May brought about a halt in the aggressive fight being waged by the anti-treaty faction against the provisional government. At the same time it was received with something like consternation in British governmental circles. It was believed in England that it struck at the basis of the treaty in preventing a free expression of southern Irish opinion on the pact and that it might represent also the yielding of the Collins faction.

In this situation the British authorities asked the leading representatives of the provisional government to come to London for a conference, and lengthy conversations between cabinet members and the Irish representatives took place there during the week of May 23. As a result Colonial Secretary Winston Churchill, in a speech in the British house of commons on June 1, announced what was virtually the decision of the British government to let the elections proceed as arranged by the two factions in Ireland. This was coupled, however, with the warning that if any of the members of the coalition government for Ireland, representing both factions, constituted upon the basis of the new elections, should fail to subscribe to the declaration of adherence to the treaty, the British government would consider that this constituted a violation of the treaty. The British government would feel free in that case, he said, to resume full liberty of action as to reclaiming the powers ceded to the Irish authorities under the treaty. It was broadly hinted by Mr. Churchill indeed, that this might mean a military re-occupation of southern Ireland by the British.

Mr. Churchill said also it had been explained by the Irish representative that they considered it virtually impossible to hold free elections at the present time. They expected militant opposition from the opponents of the treaty, and this would prevent voters from registering their free choice.

The list of candidates for election, issued in Dublin, leaves the present composition of the Dail Eireann only slightly altered.

There are 128 seats in the county, boroughs and universities of Free State constituencies, for which 124 candidates appear in the panel. The other four, forming the constituency of Dublin university are left uncontested by the coalition on the presumption that they will be returned unopposed.

Although 125 seats are represented in the panel, only 124 candidates will be nominated, because Commandant General Dan Breen was selected for both sides in the division formed by East Tipperary and Waterford county and city.

The panel gives 66 seats for proponents of the treaty and 59 for Republicans.

In County Monaghan, Dr. McCarrill was selected by the Republicans in place of Sean McEneaney, who is a strong opponent of the treaty. P. O'Kelly was nominated in Dublin county for the seat made vacant through the recent death of Frank Lawless.

Independents probably will contest 20 constituencies. The Irish Farmers union has between 20 and 30 candidates ready; the labor nominees number 20, and half a dozen candidates will run in the cities of Dublin, Cork and Limerick on behalf of business interests.

The Republican list for Kildare and Wicklow contains the names of Robert C. Barton, Erskine Childers, John O'Connor and Dan Buckley, the only pro-treaty candidates in that constituency being C. M. Byrne.

Several Ratepayers' association candidates will appear unattached, while the independent nominees include the lord mayor of Dublin, Alderman Alfred Byrne, for the city of Dublin and E. Mac Lysacht for County Clare.

SAVING THE DROWNING

By DR. R. H. BISHOP
Every summer its quota of victims by drowning. If everyone knew the mere rudiments of artificial respiration for the apparently drowned, fewer would be sacrificed.

When a bather has been brought from the water apparently drowned, do not lose a moment in trying resuscitation. At any moment up to two or three hours, signs of recovery may appear.

First, with the corner of a handkerchief wrapped around the finger, clear the victim's mouth of any obstruction.

Lay the sufferer face downward and, by slightly elevating the lower portions of the body, expose as much water as possible from the stomach and air passages.

Then use the Schafer, or one-man method of restoring breathing. The patient should be placed with his face downward and head inclined to one side, so that the nostrils and mouth are exposed, allowing the tongue to fall forward toward the front teeth to avoid obstructing the air passage.

Then kneel astride the subject, placing the palms of the hands on his lower ribs, with the thumbs nearly touching in the center of the back, the fingers extended well over the sides of the ribs. Lean over the body, throwing your weight on it, and pressing the abdomen to the ground, thus expelling the air from the chest.

Next, with the body back sharply, taking the pressure from the ribs, but do not remove the hands. This draws the air into the lungs.

Keep up these two movements alternately, by a steady swaying of your body; time the blows by your own breathing, which should be about 15 times to the minute.

Heat should be applied to the patient's body as early as possible. This should be in the form of hot water bottles wrapped in cloth to prevent burning.

Stimulations such as hot coffee or liquor, should be given only after you are assured the victim is able to swallow properly.

NEW PASSION PLAY IS STAGED BY MAGYARS
BUDAPEST, June 15.—The remote Hungarian village of Mikofalva, inspired by the success of Oberammergau, has organized a Magyar passion play. The first performance, which was held last Monday, was a success, but the continuation of the play depends upon the amount of public interest.

Christ is portrayed by an illiterate peasant, Gabe Kovacs, aged 20, and who was the richest farmer in the region, named Jaky. The simple villagers in the audience wept bitterly during the first presentation of the play.

Baltimore Faces A Movie Famine

Daylight Saving So Disastrous That All Picture Houses May Close for Two Months.

BALTIMORE, June 16.—All of the moving picture theaters in Baltimore will be closed July 1 for two months, perhaps longer if a movement which is instigated by the Exhibitors' League goes into effect.

The closing down of the moving picture industry as far as this city is concerned is said to be practically forced by the heavy losses which the theaters are suffering.

Then use the Schafer, or one-man method of restoring breathing. The patient should be placed with his face downward and head inclined to one side, so that the nostrils and mouth are exposed, allowing the tongue to fall forward toward the front teeth to avoid obstructing the air passage.

Offer Reward

RICHMOND, Va., June 15.—Street car conductors and motormen of the Richmond Lines of the Virginia Railway and Power Company have started a fund to be given as a reward for the arrest of the negro guilty of the murder of Conductor Burleson on Hull street Sunday afternoon. The reward may amount to about $500.

At the same time the Virginia Railway and Power company issued a statement that it would also offer a substantial reward for the negro's capture.

The men at the barns decided to post notices asking for contributions this morning. There are more than 100 employees on the lines as platform men, and it is expected that each man will not contribute less than $1. Feeling at the barns is running high and the men are giving every assistance possible to the police to run down the murderer.

No City Reward. The report that the city would offer a reward, Colonel W. M. Myers said, was incorrect. The city has no fund available for this purpose he said, and if a reward is offered it would have to be authorized by an act of the city council.

Of the several negroes held the police are firm in the belief that one of them is the right man. Motorman Hubbard, who was on the car following that of Conductor Burleson, is positive that he saw the blow struck and saw the knife in the hand of one of the negroes now being held. He has had several conferences with the police and in the meantime a search for the knife, which Hubbard says was a large one like a dirk, is going on.

—Mrs. J. F. Davis, who was quite painfully injured in an automobile accident a few days ago, is reported as somewhat improved today.

List To This Tale Of a Cat and a Chick

LYNCHBURG, June 15.—Joseph R. Bowles, a well-known garage owner here, has a young cat which is lamenting the death of a brown leghorn hen, which spent several months in the back yard of the Bowles home here in early street.

Mr. Bowles several months ago bought the hen for a chicken, but a daughter coaxed him not to kill the fowl and the hen repaid the kindness by laying 92 eggs in a few days over three months.

During that period the hen "took up" with a half grown kitten and together the strange pair romped. When the hen was fed she would call in chicken "language" to the kitten and the feline always responded in a hurry, though it did not take kindly to grain food. The pair became the talk of the neighborhood and now that the hen is no more the young cat spends time inquest of its friend and gives evidences of loneliness.

Funeral of Mrs. Nail To Be Held Tomorrow
The funeral of Mrs. Hattie M. Nail, wife of Dr. L. Nail, who died suddenly last night, an account of whose death appears in another column, will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, the services to be conducted by Rev. J. Clyde Oland, from Keen street Baptist church.

GIRL SMILES THROUGH DANGEROUS OPERATION
During the first operation, for appendicitis, the girl remained oblivious of the surgeon. The radio received strapped over her ears, her only comfort was that she could "hear" perfectly the strains of music coming through space.

The second operation was for the removal of gall stones. Through it the patient entertained the nurses with laughing comments on the "good execution" of the artist who was transmitting Chopin for her. She even offered occasional criticisms when she said the peddling was at fault.

She was on the operating table forty-five minutes. Her pulse remained constant throughout. Dr. Frick asserted at the end of the experiment.

STATE POLICE GUARD JAIL AS CROWD DEMANDS SLAYER

LANSING, Mich., June 15.—A squad of state police today continued to stand guard at the city jail where George Straus, alleged confessed slayer of Miss Alice Mallett, was held in safety last night as several scores of Jackson men demanded the prisoner.

Local officials also are on duty in all streets in the vicinity of the jail to disperse crowds or prevent demonstrations that might lead to another attempt at violence.

The band of Jackson men left the city by automobile late last night for Mason, county seat of Ingham county.

Lupo Gained Freedom By His Own Efforts

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Lupo, "the Wolf," according to the department of justice, initiated, promoted and obtained his own parole. He did this without the aid of "prominent friend or attorney." After he had served one-third of his sentence he petitioned in the regular way for a parole and after a hearing received it. Much secrecy prevails at the parole board and the attorney general's office on this case.

A correspondent was told by those in charge of the parole office today that they had been instructed to remain silent.

At the attorney general's office it was said that it was against the rules to make public the details of parole, but it was asserted Lupo was his own agent and lone backer in obtaining his parole. A few letters written by friends and relatives helped him, but it was explained at the department of labor that Lupo was not "paroled for deportation." One of the conditions was that he would not leave the United States.

Permission was given for his visit to Italy on business. Among those requesting that he be allowed to go out of the country on that personal errand were Senator Calder and County Clerk Donegan, of New York.

Air Mail Service Planned In India

CAIRO, Egypt, June 15.—The inauguration of an "air mail service" between Cairo and Baghdad and between the latter city and Karachi, is being made by India-Egypt air line, a through Egypt the center of England's imperial air communications just as the Suez canal has been in the past the center of Britain's sea ways.

It is understood that the next step, which is being taken, will be to take this line through India-Egypt air line, a through Egypt the center of England's imperial air communications just as the Suez canal has been in the past the center of Britain's sea ways.

There is also a rumor that owing to the widespread dissatisfaction prevailing in both England and Egypt with regard to the inferior facilities now offered by the postoffice, a service of flying boats between Alexandria and Brindisi will be inaugurated, the mails being by rail between Brindisi and Paris and again by air between Paris and London.

SHORT DOCKET IN COURT.

The docket in the police court this morning was the shortest which has confronted the mayor in quite a while. Court was in session but a few minutes. The only cases were ones of persons allowing their dogs to run at large without muzzle. For this Jennie Brown, J. H. Taylor and Howard Weeks were made to pay $1.50.

Marion to Have a Centenary Fete

President Harding and Other Notables to Attend
Celebration July 2 to 6.

(By The Associated Press.)
MARION, O., June 16.—The eyes of the country, focussed on Marion two years ago, will be turned to this Ohio town, which has sent the twenty-ninth president to the White House, July 2 to 6. Marion will be 100 years old then, and it plans to entertain more distinguished visitors
during the four-day centenary celebration than in the rushing days of the Harding campaign, when many notables had been invited.

Of more importance to Marion people than the centenary itself, will be the return at that time of their's and the country's "first citizen," President
Warren G. Harding, and Mrs. Florence Kling Harding, who will be the first time the Hardings have come back to their home town since they left a year and a half ago.

General John J. Pershing has promised to attend the celebration, as has Secretary of War Weeks. Brigadier General C. F. Sawyer, personal physician to the president, Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, Major General Reed D. Crissinger, commander of the currency, George B.
Christian, Jr., secretary to the president, Governor L. Davis, of Ohio, Governor J. Campbell, of Ohio, General J. Warren Keifer, former speaker of the House of Representatives, and the oldest living general of the civil war,
and Judge W. Z. Davis.

In addition, Major George W.
Newly, of Marion, will send personal invitations to the mayors of 37 towns and cities in the country, inviting them to attend. Speeches will be given by both of Ohio's senators, all of her congressmen, state legislators, and officials, and the mayors of all Ohio cities and towns. Newspaper men and "great minds" who were here during the centenary campaign, will be asked to return.

In the latter part of 1921 the Marion Chamber of Commerce named a committee of 36 to prepare for the centenary observance. The committee included Dr. George T. Harding, father of the president; George W.
Christian, Sr., father of President Harding's secretary; Tracy R. Allen, great-grandson of the founder of Marion, and the neighbors and friends of the president.

The celebration will last through July 5, opening on Sunday, with religious services.
Monday morning, the mayor of the city formally will open the centenary by turning over the keys of the city to Eber Baker, of Chicago, the oldest grandson of the founder of Marion.
The morning program will include addresses by Governor Davis and Judge Davis. Mrs. Geneva Johnstone-Bishop, soprano, of Los Angeles, formerly of Marion, will sing at the opening program.

Tuesday evening there will be a music festival, the program of which will be furnished by former residents of Marion, who have established reputations
as musicians in other cities and states.
Among those who will take part will be Mrs. Johnstone-Bishop, Mrs. Mary Stockwell Durfee, Toledo; Miss Anna
Louise Daze, of Chicago; William O.
Sullivan, of Cleveland; Miss Sylvia Sanderson, of Springfield, O.; George C.
Kreiger, of Minneapolis; Harry Mealey, of Cleveland; Mrs. Helen Davis Blomblom, of New York, and others.

The entire program of events Tuesday will be turned over to the American Legion. Wednesday will be G. A.
R. day.

Fire Sweeps Thru Bungalow Colony Near Rockaway

NEW YORK, June 15.—Fire swept through the seashore bungalow colony at Arverne, between Rockaway and Far Rockaway tonight and destroyed between 600 and 700 buildings. More than a score of colonists, overcome by smoke while fighting to save their effects, were rescued by firemen and policemen.

Averne lies in the narrow part of the Rockaway peninsula and stretches across from Jamaica Bay to the sea. The blaze believed to have started in Hotel Northless, spread to the right wooden bungalows on the bay side and destroyed several boarding houses. Fire boats, sent from New York, fought the fire from the bay.

Every structure in a five block area
was destroyed.
In beach 62, 60 and 61 streets, the private residential sections, eighty residences, valued at from $15,000 to $25,000 each, seventy five bungalows valued at $5,000 each and fifteen hotels and boarding houses valued at $30,000 to $50,000 each, were destroyed.

Seven engine companies, sent from New York, aided the volunteer fire fighting companies from beach resorts and five lines were stretched around the fire area. After three hours the blaze was reported under control.
The blaze presented a spectacle that attracted thousands and many of these assisted the firemen and the residents in removing household goods. An entire section of small bungalows was dynamited in an attempt to arrest
the flames, and several firemen were hurt in this operation.

Tents and improvised shelters were pitched on the beach and occupied for the night by the hundreds whose homes were burned.
Service wires from the lighting
plant that furnished power for Averne and nearby resorts were burned and the section was without light.

One hundred and fifty children in Israel orphan asylum were marched from the building as flames licked its walls. They were housed in a hotel outside the fire area. The orphanage
was destroyed.

FERRARI'S AMERICAN STAMPS BRING 400,000 FRANCS AT PARIS AUCTION

PARIS, June 15.—Philatelists today paid 400,000 francs for stamps,
most of them American Confederate States and local provisional issues, at the opening day of the fourth installment of the auction of the famous collection of stamps, de la Renouilliere
Collection, which was sold to the Post Museum, at Berlin, by Ferrari, who died in 1915, but it was sequestered
by the French Government and is now being auctioned for reparations.
The highest price paid today was 25,550 francs for a pair of Livingston
(Alabama) five-cent blues on a letter.
Nearly all the important issues
sold today went to Americans, principally to Warren Colson, of Boston, who purchased back stamps he had sold for the government, who agent Colson was in the United States prior to the world war. These stamps have more than doubled in value.
Some of the stamps sold today are the only known specimens extant.
They included a pair of Jetersville
(Va.) five-cent blacks. They fetched
11,162 francs. Fifty Mount Lebanon (Lebanon) five-cent reds brought 15,882 francs; 50 New Smyrna (Fla.) 10-cent
and one-cent blacks, 11,750 francs,
and a Beckmanns Post, Charleston, S.
C., 1860 two-cent on bluish paper, 5815 francs.

The collection, which up to the present has been hardly half disposed of already has fetched $666,000. The collection represents 50 years of work by Ferrari and is said to have cost him about $1,000,000. Before the sale began it contained particularly complete groups of Confederate and local issues, most of which have now been sold to Americans, Arthur Hind,
of New York, getting a majority of these not taken by Colson.
Probably the rarest stamp in the present sale is a Hawaiian first issue two-cent blue, which will be auctioned tomorrow. Two other copies of this stamp were sold recently, respectively, for $9,000 and $15,000.

SHRINE IS UNVEILED TO REV. ROBERT HUNT

RICHMOND, Va., June 15.—Episcopals of the diocese of Virginia, Southern Virginia and West Virginia
gathered at historic Jamestown today,
to unveil a shrine and with impressive services unveiled an outdoor shrine to the memory of Rev. Robert Hunt, first Protestant Episcopal celebrant of the holy communion in America, the ritual of the first communion in the new world being followed at the consecration exercises.

Climbing Higher Than Man Has Ever Gone Before

To reach the peak of Mt. Everest has been man's ambition for many years. Three Englishmen, Mallory, Somerville and Norton, have gone 28,860 feet, farther than man has ever gone before, without artificial supply of oxygen. They are just 2200 feet below the summit, ready to advance with tanked oxygen. This photo was taken as the expedition crossed the snow barren at Jellap La.

Mrs. Oleson Wages a Hot Campaign

(By The Associated Press.)
ST. PAUL, Minn., June 16.—A woman is setting the pace for all candidates in the Minnesota primary election campaign.

Rambling over the countryside,
from town to town, in a small sedan
autofobile, Mrs. Anna Dickie Oleson of Cloquet is waging an intense campaign from the Democratic United States senatorial nomination.

Mrs. Oleson, indorsed by the Democratic state convention, will go into the June 19 state-wide primary opposed by two men, Thomas J. Meighan, of Preston, and Homer Mossir, of Minneapolis, in the only contest
of generally recognized importance.
To Mrs. Oleson, it is more than a campaign for her nomination; it is a campaign of womankind for recognition in politics, she declares, and in her automobile campaign, she feels she is blazing the way for her.

The sedan was presented to her by friends—the next day she was started on her campaign tour of the state, a tour that will not terminate until the June 19 primary, and then only momentarily if she is nominated.

The 35-year-old daughter, Mary, is doing most of the driving (she is generally recognized in her mother's campaign, and together with Mrs.
Oleson, superintendent of Cloquet schools, makes up the family "cabaret").

From time to time various women friends of Mrs. Oleson accompany her on her cross country drives, and now and then local folk are added to the party for an intensive drive in some particular region.

It isn't just the towns and cities that are hearing and seeing Mrs. Oleson, for many times her automobile stops beside some field and a farmer is invited to rest within it while the ardent apostles seek to strengthen his party alignment or convert him to the Democratic cause.

OLMSTED WAS REPRIMANDED BY ROOSEVELT

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt, today officially reprimanded Ensign J.
L. Olmsted, editor of the "Lucky Bag," the year book of this year's graduating class at Annapolis, for "cruel and unwarranted" treatment of Leonard Kaplan, a fellow member of the class.

Secretary Roosevelt told Ensign
Olmsted, whose home is in Des Moines Iowa, that he had been guilty of "an action which casts a grave doubt as to your possession of those qualifications essential to any officer in the United States navy," and added that "the department will require from you in the future evidence of a fundamental change in your attitude toward your comrades in the service."
Others, especially the associate editors, the naval secretary asserted, undoubtedly were guilty in some measure for the affront to Kaplan which consisted in perforating the page in the year book containing his photograph and biography so that it might be removed. But, added Mr. Roosevelt, the primary responsibility rested
on Ensign Olmsted.

When asked for a copy of the reprimand, Acting Secretary Roosevelt made public at the same time a statement in which he expresses the belief that no racial antipathy was behind the treatment of Kaplan.

A most serious note in this instance, at the academy, Colonel Roosevelt said in his statement to newspaper men, "was struck by the query in certain people's minds as to whether the action had been taken because of racial reasons. Feeling as strongly as I do how un-American any such distinction as this should be, I have gone most carefully into this phase. I am happy to say that I am convinced that, had the truth of this incident was, no such motive was behind it."

"The records of the naval academy show that in the class of nineteen twenty two, nine men entered the faith as Jewish. Certain of these men were among the most popular in the class. Furthermore a number of our prominent officers in the past, and at this time are either Jewish or of Jewish extraction.
"The traditions of our country have always been exemplified by our navy.
We pride ourselves that in the service
there are no distinctions of race or creed."

WOULD CUT DOWN RATE OF DISCOUNT

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The federal reserve bank at San Francisco,

for an expression on its attitude upon the possible reduction of the California banks' discount rate from four and a half to four per cent.

ON THE MANTEL IN HIS HOME

Black-Draught Found Valuable
By An Arkansas Farmer for Common Liver and Stomach
Disorders

Ashdown, Ark. "Theford's Black-Draught is a family medicine with says Mr. M. P. Henry, a prosperous farmer of Little River County, residing near here.
"You will find Black-Draught on our mantel most any time, for a friend
in need is a friend indeed," writes Mr.
Henry.

"We use it for headaches, indigestion, stomach trouble.
"Black-Draught is a splendid liver medicine. I take doses of about a teaspoonful, dry, and it certainly cleanses the liver."

Numerous letters testify to the fact that Black-Draught has a permanent place on the mantles of many families. It is used and recommended by thousands of men and women, who have found it safe and valuable for irregularities of the liver, stomach and bowels.

A dose of Black-Draught, now and then when needed, has been found to help prevent, or relieve, indigestion, biliousness, constipation, sick headache and similar troubles when due to a torpid liver, needing laxative or cathartic stimulation.
Theford's Black-Draught has been in use for over 70 years. It is composed of medicinal roots and herbs and acts promptly and naturally without bad after-effects.
If you are not already familiar with the benefits obtained from the use of Black-Draught, get a package from your druggist, today, and give Black-Draught a trial.

SAVED CHILDREN'S LIVES

NEW YORK, June 15.—The skill and courage of Mounted Policeman George Butler, of the Kingsbridge station, plus the perfect co-operation of his horse, Mosley, undoubtedly saved a number of children from injury and perhaps death this morning at Kingsbridge avenue and Two Hundred and Thirty-seventh street.
Eight hundred children, of Public School No. 7, were parading to Van Cortlandt Park for flag-day exercises.
They were led by their own band and escorted by teachers and the principal,
F. Ernst.

At Two Hundred and Thirty-seventh street a horse attached to a milk wagon began to prance about, excited by the music. Principal Ernst ordered the band to stop playing, and the music ceased until the band was a block from the horse. Then the playing resumed.

Again the horse became nervous, and suddenly ran straight toward the marching children. The driver, Charles Felberg, No. 209 Dickman street, lost control and jumped out of the wagon. Then the mounted policeman got into action with his well-trained horse. He headed off the runaway and rode beside it, always edging closer, forcing the runaway gradually toward the curb.

Then leaning out from the saddle, he caught the bridle of the runaway and there was a running struggle for three blocks.
The policeman's horse constantly ## crowded against the runaway, which was finally forced against a telephone pole and stopped. Butler's right hand was badly cut, and his horse was cut about the breast and knees. But the hazardous task had been perfect- ly performed.

POLITICAL HOUSE CLEARING

HAVANA, June 15.—(By The Associated Press)—Cuba began political house clearing today with the selection of a reform cabinet and agreeing to enact vital legislation before June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

South America is looked to as the future oil reservoir of the world, according to the financier.

WOMEN MEN ADMIRE

Men admire a pretty face, a good figure, but more than all a buoyant disposition and the charm of happy content. There is no question but what a light-hearted woman is the joy of a man's life, but no woman becomes happy and joyful when dragged down by the ailments that so often develop headaches, backache, nervousness and "the blues."

We are continually publishing in this paper letters from women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound,
after doctors and other medicines have failed to help them. If you are ill why not give it a trial.—adv.

Labor Convention Approves Strike

CINCINNATI, O., June 15.—(By the Associated Press.)—By the vote of every delegate, the American Federation of Labor convention here today endorsed the nation-wide coal strike that, since April 1, has kept half a million miners from work, and also indicated by a demonstration, its approval of the threatened walkout of more than 1,000,000 railroad workers.

The demonstration was loud cheers from all parts of the big convention hall when E. M. Jewell, president of the railway employees department of the federation, told the convention that the rail union officials would not interfere to stop a strike.

"It is believed," declared Mr. Jewell, "that the membership is prepared to meet the test, and if they so decide, their decisions will be complied with."

The endorsement of the miners' strike was given by a rising vote cast by the delegates and amid their own cheers and afterward William Green, secretary-treasurer of the miners were in the fight to the finish, and he said it might be necessary to ask other unions for financial assistance.

Other developments also marked the convention session, although it was cut short so delegates might attend a barbecue, staged on a river island, 20 miles from this city. The "one big union" plan, advocated by William L. Foster, was rejected by the convention without debate, and later announcement was made that Mr. Foster would hold a mass meeting a week from tonight. Plans for unionizing unorganized workers also were laid by the convention, which in addition adopted a resolution declaring in favor of an "intensive organization to combat the 'open shop'."

Aside from the convention work, the executive council of the federation gave its final consideration to the recent decision of the supreme court in the Coronado coal case, and prepared its report criticizing the decision. The council decided not to prepare any plan for overturning the decision on account of the convention having ordered a special policy committee to outline a program centering on the Coronado and other decisions.

Appointment of this committee, vested with broad powers, was authorized by the convention after hearing Senator LaFollette, of Wisconsin, and after indicating the approval of the congressional veto of the supreme court decisions. A proposal similar to one adopted by the federation two years ago.

The railroad strike threat came before the convention on an impromptu speech of Mr. Jewell, who said that the rail employees were "convinced that certain sinister interests" had been endeavoring for more than two years to maneuver the union into a position "where there might be a hope of crushing the organizations. He added that officers of the unions believed the time had arrived to determine whether or not the union can be crushed without killing every individual member."

"We hold that it cannot be done," he concluded. "The 'one big union' plan met its death without debate, coming unexpectedly in a report of the organization committee recommending rejection of the resolution introduced by E. H. Fitzgerald and others representing the railroad clerks."

NORFOLK TRYING TO GET COLLEGE FROM ASHLAND

NORFOLK, Va., June 15.—Representative James H. McMillan, Methodist Church of Norfolk and Portsmouth for a long time have entertained the idea of moving the Men's College of the Randolph-Macon Institution, from its present location in Ashland, Va. to the vicinity of Norfolk and Portsmouth.

The first actual move toward that end was made yesterday when a committee from the Twin Cities made the proposal to the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the college. The committee was composed of William Holmes Davis, J. H. Brownly and G. Benson Ferebee. On their arrival in Norfolk last night, each member expressed his satisfaction in the reception of the proposal, which was far more pleasing than the laymen of the two cities had anticipated.

The board of trustees of the college is to appoint a committee to look into the advisability of such a move. Many arguments were placed before the board as advertisements for the institution's removal to this section.

First, Norfolk is the most healthful locality in Virginia. Second, it is the center of an approximate population of 100,000, which exceeds the growth of any Southern city in the last ten years. Third, it has contributed more to the educational campaigns in the past than any other cities.

Fourth, the Methodist membership of the city has increased 5,574 in ten years and the church property of that denomination has increased in value from $484,996 to $1,501,000 in the same period.

Fifth, the people of Norfolk are willing to undertake to raise, through campaign, $750,000 in money, and to acquire a 75 to 100-acre tract of land in the vicinity of Norfolk and Portsmouth, the same to be approved by the board of trustees of the college.

Randolph-Macon College was founded in 1823 in Bordenton, Va., where it remained until 1868, when it was moved to Ashland. It is now the wish of Norfolk and Portsmouth Methodists to bring the school to these cities, where greater facilities will be offered to the institution.

FROM IOWA PASTURES TO PARIS GILLS IN 11 DAYS

CHICAGO, June 15.—Stearns which grazed in Iowa pasture June 1, were served as steak in Paris gills today.

When the Cunard liner Mauretania docked at Cherbourg yesterday after a record voyage of 8 days, 11 hours and 10 minutes, she unloaded beef which left Chicago June 4. The total running time between Chicago and the European Continent was 7 days 9 hours and 10 minutes.

The same Chicago packing company which made the rush shipment to Europe sent provisions on the maiden voyage of the White Star liner Mauretania, which reached Southampton two weeks ago after a run of 7 days, 11 hours and 58 minutes.

Shipment time between Chicago and Europe ordinarily is twenty days.

Of every 100 children who enter public school only 15 finishes high school.

Correspondents Are Putting Up a Fight

THE HAGUE, June 15.—(Associated Press.)—The first battle of the Carnegie peace palace was won today by correspondents of the world, who refused to be excluded from the palace while the postponed Geneva conference on Russian affairs was holding its first meeting. Indignant newspaper men and women, representing more than twenty nations, ignored the edict of the Dutch foreign office and forced their way through the gates and into the building where they demanded an audience with the Dutch foreign minister, and presented a petition to him in person protesting against such treatment of the world press in the international palace of peace.

Dutch foreign office officials, detectives and policemen were unable to check the correspondents, among whom Americans, British and French predominated. After the correspondents had gained the entrance to the marble corridor of the palace, which Andrew Carnegie made possible, policemen tried to persuade them to leave, but without avail. The newspaper writers announced they would stay until expelled by force. They had been welcomed visitors at the meeting of the international court of justice in the same building in the morning, and they declined to wait in the garden for news of the conference proceedings.

Many of the correspondents entered the hall before the session began and were officially ordered out by a representative of the Dutch foreign office. Finally Foreign Minister Van Karnebeek appeared and addressed the correspondents. Replying to their protest, he said it had been decided that correspondents should not even enter the grounds while the conference was in session, but since they had entered the palace, he could not order them out. He wished it understood, however, that this was no precedent.

The correspondents protested that they had received no such treatment at Geneva and other conferences, where open meetings were arranged and no effort was made to prevent them from getting reliable information about the news developments in the sessions they did not attend.

Finally squads of soldiers were stationed in the corridors to patrol them and limit the movement of the journalists to the corridors adjacent to the main entrance.

Many of the delegates on leaving the conference hall stopped and chatted with the newspaper men who had attended the recent international meetings in attempt to straighten out European affairs. After the conference had been in session about an hour, a representative of M. Van Karnebeek reappeared and explained that the delegates were about to have tea and requested the newspaper men to go into the garden so that the delegates would be alone in the corridors.

A prominent French correspondent indignantly announced that those upon whom the world depended for news of international affairs would not be treated as monials, and the correspondents stood their ground, and finally were invited to tea with the delegates. It was sort of a truce, a kind of armed neutrality.

Today's news what tomorrow will bring forth, but the newspaper men are determined to find out; they intend each day to enter the palace, which is large enough to shelter an entire army. They have been assured of the moral support of the international court of justice and many of the conference delegates, but the latter are helpless, as the Dutch government is host, and Van Karnebeek presided at the opening meeting today and was selected as president to act until the Russian delegation arrived on June 22, and the joint sessions begin with soviet.

HOLLAND HEADS A. A. C. OF WORLD

MILWAUKEE, June 15.—Louis Holland, of Kansas City, Mo., today was elected president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world on the first ballot. He was opposed by Robert C. Chapple, Middleboro, Ohio. The official vote was announced as Holland 392; Chapple 555. The election of Holland was made unanimous. Atlantic City was formally selected as the next convention city. The convention favored a recommendation that the Atlantic City meeting award the 1924 convention to London, England.

A telegram was read from Lord Northcliffe which stated that a warm welcome would be given them should they make London their 1924 convention city.

The birthday of Benjamin Franklin, January 17, next, will be especially observed among advertising men. It will become an annual occasion for observance beginning in 1923.

DIRECT TO HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The House conference committee on the military appropriation bill decided today to submit direct to the House the Senate amendment appropriating $7,500,000 for continuation of work on dam No. 2 of the Mussel Shoals project in Alabama.

TO THE CITIZENS OF DANVILLE:

I respectfully announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Superintendent of the Water, Gas and Electric Departments of the City of Danville, subject to the Democratic primary to be held August 1, 1922.

I started with these Departments as Secretary and Treasurer in 1890; in 1898 upon the recommendation of the late Capt. C. A. Ballou (then Engineer and Superintendent) I was elected by the City Council Assistant Superintendent. In 1903, at the death of Captain Ballou, I was chosen Superintendent, and by successive City Councils from that date until 1914 I was re-elected by unanimous vote. In 1914, 1916, 1918 and 1920, I have been re-elected by the people at popular election without opposition.

During this period of 32 years no charge has been made against me as a citizen and none against my administration of the properties entrusted to my supervision.

Since I have been Superintendent, the City Pump House and Filter Plant, the City Gas House and the City Electric Light and Power Station have all been planned and erected. During the period of my administration, our patronage has grown from perhaps 1,500 customers to a total of more than 12,000. Our receipts have increased from less than $50,000.00 a year to more than $500,000.00 a year. Whereas these Departments formerly produced receipts less than the disbursements, they now turn into the general treasury of the City, under normal conditions, from $75,000.00 to $100,000.00 in excess of the disbursement. When the City Council placed me in financial charge of the City's Departments the property value, exclusive of any franchises, was $250,000.00. Since that time and while the City Council and the people of Danville have seen fit to continue me in charge of these Departments, these property values have increased $1,000,000.00, so that the fair value of the property owned by the City at this time is not less than $1,250,000.00. It is a matter of pride to me as a citizen of Danville that whereas the citizens of Greensboro, High Point, Salisbury, Winston-Salem, Durham, Raleigh and other North Carolina cities pay $1.90 a thousand cubic feet for gas, the gas consumers of Danville pay only $1.20. This means that during the past year the gas takers in Danville paid for the gas they used $91,000.00 less than they would have been charged for the same quantity and quality of gas in any of the cities above mentioned. A like saving in water and electric light and power will be seen by comparing the rates in cities similarly situated with Danville, throughout the entire South.

Records of the City Council will show that as Superintendent of the Gas Department I have always, in response to their requests to me for recommendations, advised against their raising the price of gas, and I shall in the future make to the Council a recommendation for a reduction in the price of gas just as soon as it can be done without cutting the wages of our faithful employees. It should be remembered that Danville was one of the very few cities in the country which did not raise its rates on water or electricity in the abnormal cost period, during and subsequent to the war. At the present time our rates on water, gas and electricity are lower than any city in the United States similarly located.

It would seem that a business of this magnitude and requiring trained and experienced supervision would more likely procure satisfactory results under an official who had devoted 32 years to its practical management than could be hoped for under the management of one who has had no experience whatever in producing and distributing water, gas and electricity.

I will appreciate the good will, the vote and the influence of the Citizens of Danville in giving me a vote of confidence upon my record, though it will be impossible to see each voter personally in so short a time. If re-elected I pledge a faithful discharge of my duty and to stand in the future as I have endeavored to stand in the past for the best interests of the City of Danville, and its citizens.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANK TALBOTT.

COLOR LINE AT HARVARD DRAWN

NEW YORK, June 15.—A petition, drafted by a committee of seven Harvard graduates, which is being sent to Harvard alumni throughout the country, it became known today, declared that the university is conducting a "Jim Crow policy" in order to attract white students from the southern States.

Robert C. Benchley, 12, the writer, secretary of the committee, when asked about the petition, said: "I am very sorry the memorial has been made public. We had hoped to work confidentially among Harvard graduates, particularly among the men in whom the civil war tradition still lives, and to have the ruling changed without publicity."

The committee is headed by the Rev. Dr. William Channing Gannett, of Rochester, N. Y.

In a letter addressed to President A. Lawrence Lowell, of Harvard, the committee wrote: "We have learned with surprise that the long tradition of the college as regards negroes has been broken and a color line drawn in the freshmen dormitories. The exclusion policy have never been publicly announced as far as we know, and has only lately become known."

MACHINE RIVAL OF CALENDAR

G. E. FAUCHER AND HIS TIME CALCULATOR

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Birthdays and holidays would fall on the same week day annually, much confusion would be averted, and millions of dollars spent in compiling calendars would be saved yearly if time were reckoned by a device just perfected by G. E. Faucher, of Los Angeles, he claims.

Thick mechanism, soon to be exhibited before Washington officials in furtherance of efforts to simplify time calculation, divides the year into days, or 13 months of 28 days each.

It consists of an aluminum frame, work within which astral movements are duplicated in miniature. Propelled by an eight-day motorclock, the earth and moon revolutions are effected by an intricate series of gears, the whole synchronized with mathematical precision. The earth's orbit is divided into 364 equal segments.

Faucher has been checking its performance for months and declares it flawless. His invention isn't for sale, but will be used for lecture purposes only.

LEGISLATION TO STOP SALE OF LIQUOR ON SHIPS

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Indications multiplied today that prohibition proponents in Congress would move through the pending merchant marine bill to stop the sale of liquor on American ships.

The first definite step to end the conditions complained of by Anheuser-Busch, Inc. of St. Louis, came through presentation by Representative Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, to the House merchant marine committee of an amendment to the merchant marine bill which would deny government aid to any American ship on which liquor is stored, sold or otherwise disposed of. The committee did not act on the amendment at today's session and later Republican committee members hastily called together, received another proposal framed by Representative Edmunds, Republican, Pennsylvania, and designed as a substitute for the Bankhead amendment.

The Edmunds amendment would have the effect of putting American ships on a parity with those of nations which do not have prohibition. It would provide a fine of $10,000 on any ship of whatever registry on which liquor is sold during a voyage starting or ending at an American port and after a second offence would prohibit the entrance of the ship to American ports. The proposal was taken under consideration by the majority committee members with the belief being advanced in some quarters that it ran directly counter to many of the nation's commercial treaties.

Action during the day was not entirely confined to Congress for as yesterday executive officials discussed the matter and it was indicated at the treasury that Attorney General Daugherty might be asked soon for a ruling on the legality of liquor selling on American ships. Mr. Daugherty when asked about the possibility of a new ruling or rather a review of the ruling made by the department of justice during the Wilson administration to the effect that prohibition follows the flag, said that although no such request had been made it would acted upon as speedily as possible if made.

Representative Upshaw, Democrat, Georgia, declared in the House today that the position of the shipping board on the matter was "utterly indefensible."

Zenator Caraway, Democrat, Arkansas in the Senate characterized the policy of the board as "childish, foolish and dishonest."

Chairman Lasker of the board meanwhile maintained silence on the whole matter.

NAVAL RESERVE BILL ADOPTED

WASHINGTON, June 15.—The naval reserve plan to create a civilian naval reserve force, similar to the national guard, was adopted today by the Senate in accepting an amendment of the appropriations committee increasing the House provision of $50,000 to $300,000, to begin the work.

Under the plan of the department 3,000 officers and 10,000 enlisted men would be molded into a civilian reserve force, paid for one month's service annually and be subject to call to duty. Reservists would receive two weeks training annually on naval vessels.

The naval reserve plan was adopted during initial consideration of the $224,000,000 naval budget. Major contests went over until tomorrow. Senator King, Democrat, Utah, criticizing alleged "extravagance" in the appropriations, giving notice that he would make an effort to reduce the navy personnel of $6,000 men voted by the House and left unchanged by the committee. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, also criticized the size of the budget.

Increased appropriations to reopen the Newport, Rhode Island, naval training station, recommended by the committee, were adopted today by the Senate, as was also a committee recommendation to reduce the appropriation for the Hampton Roads station. A motion of Senator McCormick, Republican, Illinois, to increase the funds for the great lakes training station from $200,000, voted by the House and unchanged by the committee, to $350,000 was rejected 37 to 17. Senator McCormick criticized Secretary Denby and suggested a congressional commission to investigate the civilian administration of the navy.

ARGUE CONFIRMATION OF F. & P. RAIL CASE

(Special to The Register.)
ROCKY MOUNT, June 15.—The confirmation of the proposed sale of the Franklin and Pittsylvania railroad was argued today and the decision of Judge P. H. Dillard in the case will be rendered soon. Papers submitted by counsel were taken by court for consideration.

Mrs. Luther F. Fair, who was operated upon Tuesday at the General hospital was reported yesterday as making progress.

WORK AT HAGUE IS MAPPED OUT BY THE LEADERS

THE HAGUE, June 15.—(Associated Press.)—The leaders of the delegations of the allied countries with H. A. Van Karnebeek, the Dutch foreign minister, at a lengthy meeting late today mapped out the work of The Hague conference and decided to recommend the appointment of three sub-commissions to discuss separately the questions of Russian debts, Russian credits and the treatment of property in Russia owned by foreigners but expropriated by the soviet government.

These sub-commissions will probably be selected tomorrow after the formation of a general Russian commission to which as many countries as desired may adhere. Each sub-committee will consist of eleven members. The allied nations, known otherwise as the inviting powers, Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan, together with Holland, will each have a member on each of the three sub-commissions. This leaves five places open for other countries and representatives will be selected in accordance with the interest of these countries in the particular problem under discussion.

The heads of the principal delegations also determined to keep politics outside the conference, believing that this is the only way to achieve practical results on the problems which they wish to discuss, in the same manner as the business directors of big industrial concerns or commercial companies. Emphasis was laid on the necessity of allowing every country, great or small, to have an opportunity to voice its views.

VICTORY BONDS CALLED ON

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—Interest on all 3-4 per cent. Victory notes will cease tomorrow, and all these securities should be presented for payment, Secretary Mellon stated tonight.

Redemption of the 3-4 per cent. Victory notes on June 15, he explained, was announced in February and to date approximately $140,000,000 of these obligations have been deemed, leaving about $240,000,000 of the notes outstanding.

Approximately $300,000,000 in income tax receipts are expected by the Government tomorrow, according to Secretary Mellon's estimate of collections on the second installment of the 1922 taxes.

Alfalfa, although a comparatively new crop to the American farmer, was grown in Italy 2,000 years ago.

SUDAN KEY TO ALL EGYPT

CARIO, Egypt, June 15.—He who holds the Sudan controls Egypt; hence all of Egypt is virtually under the control of Great Britain in considering the establishment of a protectorate in this territory. "Egypt without the Sudan is a tomb for its people," says one newspaper, and explains that control of the Sudan is absolutely necessary to the economic development and life of Egypt. Without the Sudan Egypt's independence, recently granted by Great Britain, would be a farce.

The London rumors carry the detail that Great Britain contemplates the declaration of a Sultanate separate from Egypt under one of the sons of the Mahdi ruler, the whole under British protection with a system of government similar to a British dominion.

The Egyptian people will resist their newspapers declare even to the extent of force. They are voicing their determination to regard Egypt and the Sudan as one and inseparable. With Great Britain in the Sudan, the products of the country will be exported by way of Berber and Suakin, and with her hands on the sources of the Nile, Great Britain could render the lower reaches of the river, so vital to Egypt, fertile or infertile at will.

Miss Annie Scruggs, who was operated upon for appendicitis at Edmund's hospital Wednesday is reported as having withstood the operation well, and is getting along nicely.

TRAIN WRECK KILLS TWO MEN

FLOMATON, Ala., June 15.—Two workers in a potato house were killed and two trainmen and several passengers were injured this afternoon when passenger train number four on the Louisville and Nashville railroad, ran into a swiftly moving freight train at Floamaton, near Canoe, according to reports given out at the local offices of the road here. The engine, mail and baggage cars and one coach turned over, the report said. Doctors were sent from here to the wreck.

The glass-making industry in the United States uses nearly 2,000,000 tons of sand annually.

RESIDENT HAS AWFUL EXPERIENCE

"I was twice confined in hospital, in the last one nothing but gruel water was injected into me 4 times a day, as my stomach would not retain any food. I suffered terribly; was reduced to a skeleton. My folks saw an ad of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and it has surely saved my life. I weigh 150 lbs now." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation, which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis.
